Welcome to my energy resources guide. I believe that as we seek to restore our economy, we should advance renewable energy and energy efficiency initiatives that will help combat global warming and overcome our dependence on foreign oil. The links provided below are to resources that will help you make your home, business, town, or school more energy efficient. If you are in need of further assistance, please do not hesitate to contact my Vermont office at (802) 652-2450, or toll free at (888) 605-7270.
